Register and watch the webinar now!

Within this presentation you will get an overview about the real time Ethernet standard EtherCAT® and the Infineon product offering to serve this market. You will get an insight about solutions offered by today from several vendors and how Infineon offers the widest product portfolio with the most competitive feature set and pricing for EtherCAT® based applications.

It's not only about a single microcontroller but also about tooling and ecosystem.

In this on-demand webinar you will learn about:

The first-ever EtherCAT® node on an ARM® Cortex® M4 Microcontroller with on-chip Flash & analog/mixed signal capabilities

Your solution to ease your development of the application, safe time to market and save money

Register here.